Meet Colleen...

Colleen is a participant in our Youth Homelessness Demonstration Program. As she explored potential career paths in healthcare, she was especially drawn to the chance to support patients during moments where they might feel anxious about getting medical work done. Through hard work and dedication, Colleen successfully completed the Phlebotomy Program at St. Joseph's School of Nursing. She found the experience deeply meaningful, gaining not only valuable knowledge about the medical field but also greater confidence in her own abilities. The program helped broaden her vision for the future and opened new possibilities for her career path. Reflecting on the experience, Colleen shared, "You learn the art of distracting, and as you do that, they talk to you and you learn more about who they are and their background". The ability to build trust and connect with others reinforced her passion for helping people and highlighted the impact education can have on the future.

90%

of those enrolled in the Youth Homelessness Demonstration Program are in stable housing
